From page 01 WOMEN from all walks of life will be celebrated in Sunbury this Friday as part of International Women's Day.

Simone Corboy and Nicole Gullus from Sunbury Foodworks will be part of the celebrations.

Sunbury Community Health Centre is hosting a twilight Sunbury International Women's Day event, giving working women the chance to attend.

Event co-ordinator Fi Corboy said the theme of this year's event was "inspiring change".

"In the past four years, we've had women say they would have liked to attend after work," Ms Corboy said.

"This year the event is specifically aimed at women who wouldn't be able to come to a day event, or wouldn't get a celebration at their workplace."

The centre will have a number of guest speakers promoting health, while Salesian College students will provide entertainment and the fourth chocolate lily recognition awards will be handed out.

"Six women who have done between 20 and 40 years of volunteer work will be recognised," Ms Corboy said.

The evening will also feature a number of activities run by Bunnings, plus indoor mini golf.

The event is funded as part of a Hume City Council community grant.

It's on from 5pm at Sunbury Community Health Centre. For more, call Fi on 0413 222 385.
