

Harrison, 3, with a new-found friend at the existing Sunbury Community Health playground. Picture: CARMELO BAZZANO

OPPORTUNITY TO PLAY AROUND WITH IDEAS

SUNBURY Community Health is handing over its playground to the community to run and expand.

The organisation is hoping the playground can be reimagined with modern equipment and other aspects such as sensory gardens and nature-based play.

Already Sunbury Community Health has collected about $40,000 in funds including a $19,600 Stronger Communities Program federal grant.

Anyone interested in the project is invited to a "playground party" this Friday from 4pm to 6pm.

Sunbury Community Health community partnership and engagement officer Erin Callejan said if people were "willing to take it on and develop a design and manage the process through to see that happen, we will support them in that," she said.

Details: 9744 9561.