Candidates have their say on hot topics

A CROWD of more than 100 heard from 10 of the 13 Jacksons Creek Ward Hume Council candidates at Sunbury Memorial Hall last Thursday.

Organised by Sunbury Community Health and supported by the Sunbury Business Association, Sunbury Radio and Sunbury Leader, the format allowed would-be councillors the opportunity to prepare answers on a number of themes including community strengths, infrastructure, poker machines, the rise in dementia and how they'd work collaboratively.

Candidates also had three minutes to outline why they were running for council. In all 88 questions were submitted and 155 tweets sent on the night.
