

SUNBURY

Indigenous health in focus

THE Sunbury Aboriginal Corporation is all set for the fourth Healthy, Happy and Deadly event on Monday, October 2, from 11am-3pm.

The event gives indigenous people of all ages the chance to celebrate their culture, organiser Gail Radford said.

Ms Radford, the Sunbury Community Health Aboriginal community partnerships and engagement officer, said the event at Sunbury Neighbourhood House brought elders, leaders and families together.

Agencies supportive of Aboriginal health and connection explain how they can assist.

There will also be a wildlife demonstration from Vicki Lowing, indigenous face painting and a didgeridoo show.
